out, and rentted expressly to suit the bisiness of the present occupant.

Mr Ryan will keep the Manhattan House for the accommodation of Clubs and Parties. The best wines and Liquers will be furnished from his cellar, having been carefully selected from the best stocks in Boston, a large portion of them being of the celebrated stocks long in the cellar of Mr Gallagher, late of the Exchange Coffee House. Rooms will be furnished for References and Courts Martial. Transient and permanent boarders will be accommodated in the best style known in the country; and elegant abartments will be let, with or without board.

or without beard.

The Table d'ilote will be supplied with every delicacy of the various seasons. Breakfasts, Dioners and Suppers, of every description, will be served at short notice, and various Soups will be ready every day from eleven to three. Mr Ryan is confident that in this department, his own experience, added to the skill of the persons employed as cuisiniers, will enable him to please the most fastidious epicures, both in respect te quarity and style.

Those friends who have known the character of Mr Ryan's House in Boston, he is assured, will find his accommodations better, his means more ample, and his dil gence quite as untiring; and from such strangers in this city, as love excellence in the various departments of his profession, he would beg the favor of an early call, with the fall hope of giving satisfaction.

IF House was opened on the 15th June, 1887. eptf je17

MARLBORO' HOTEL.

The subscriber would give notice that he has taken a few days to see his friends. The house has been thoroughly repaired, enlarged, and neatly painted and papered. The furniture and bedding are new, and the accommodations In eyery respect are believed to be equal to any other Hotel in the city. No pains will be spared to furnish the table with the city. No pains will be spared to furnish the table with every variety the market affords. Efforts will be made to furnish the table with the products of free labor, and provision will also be made for those who prefer vegetable diet. Religious worship will be regularly maintained every day, and as far as possible to prevent, no complay be received or bills will be settled on the Sabbath. No smoking allowed. The Hotel will be kept entirely on the Temperance principles, and while not a particle of intoxicating liquor will be sold or used, it will he a quiet home for gentlemen travelling with their families, as well as for others. There are several suits of rooms for the accommodation of small families as permanent board ers Application for permanent board will be received at the Hotel every day.

MUTABILITY.

[From the Spanish of Cicafuegos.] The roses that now withering lie, Scattered by thee scornfully, Peeping dawn beheld me cull, Fragrant, fresh, and beautiful. Living they all bravely flourish'd, As for lasting ages nourish'd; But like shadows fleeting fast, All fair things do fade at last. August with his sultry breath Stifles sweetest flowers to death; When to other regions Spring Hurries, they lie perishing ! Autumn shows his ruddy face, Glowing with a perfect grace, As aged Summer fast declines, Dying 'midst the drooping vines ! Then roaring winds from out the north, O'er the mountains hurrying forth, Hurl ruin on the sterile soil, And the landscape's charms despoil; So doth dark and cheerless night Follow fast day's golden light; Joyous smiles give place to tears, And pleasure flies as grief appears! Inconstancy reigns over all This fickle globe-perpetual; All within its circle's range Must yield to an eternal change. Thus on Constancy she trampled ! In the midst of such examples, Can unchanging truth be shown, Maiden, in thy heart alone?

BOSTON MORNING POST.

TUESDAY, JULY 4, 1837.

ATLAS NONSENSE.

It is really amu ing-an excellent relief from the blue devils-to look over, occasionally, the editorial paragraphs of the Atlas. They are so laughably absurd, so palpably at war with common sense, and display such a contempt for the discernment and intellectual capacities of its patrons and the members of its party, that they excite only amusement, never apprehension of success in their bare-faced attempts to deceive. The following is a eample:-

" From the Washington Globe .- Neither President Jackson, President Van Buren, Col. Benton, nor any other man holding a position to give weight to his views, as representing those of the Democracy, ever proposed a currency EXCLUSIVELY metallic."

Remark of the Atlas-

"Thus says the Government Journal. The Globe, then, is in favor of banks and bank bills. That being the case, we suppose it prefers the IRREDEEMABLE PAPER of the State Banks to the bills of the United States Bank, convertible into gold and silver."

Every child will see, that nothing like this inference is deducible from the text. Neither the Globe, nor the Government, nor the democratic party, is in favor of " irredeemable paper," this new WHIG CURRENCY, this RAG MONEY, which the whigs, by one great combination of their bank and monied men, have FORCED upon the community. But we wish only for State banks, and for such only as pay specie. As for these pretended "bills of a United States Bank, convertible into gold and silver," there is no such thing. Neither the bills of the old or the new United States Bank (both managed by their greatest bank financier, Biddle,) are "convertible into gold and silver," except, like those of all the other whig banks, at a loss of THIRTEEN PER CENT. or more!

Again the Globe says-

" However they (the Van Buren party) may differ about the theory of banks-a subject which they all agree belongs exclusively to the legislation of the States-the principle is universal with them, that gold and silver is the only legal tender -- the only standard of value recognised by the Constitution-and ought to be the common from hand-to-hand currency, for the minor business of the whole community."

Upon this the Atlas remarks-" First the Globe admits that the subject of banking belongs EXCLUSIVELY to the States; and then it assumes that the States should not permit the banks to issue small bills. What right has the Globe, or the National Executive, to interfere with a business that belongs EXCLUSIVELY to the legislation of the States?"

The Globe does not "ASSUME" any such thing. It, perhaps, thinks it would be best, that such a policy should be adopted. Neither does the Globe or the Executive "INTERFERE" with the legislation of the States. The State Legislatures do as they please, without any other interference from the Globe, or the Executive, or the democratic party, than the Constitutional ones-the ballot box and moral suasion-by argument and open discussion. These they have as good a right to employ, as the Atlas has. The Atlas concludes its nonsense, by asking this ques-

"If the Globe is not in favor of a currency 'exclusively metallic,'-we would beg leave to ask what kind of a currency it proposes?" We answer, (what every body knows, except the Atlas,) that the democracy (and evidently the Globe,) are in favor, first, as stated above, of silver and gold, as the "common from hand to hand currency, for the MINOR business of the whole community;" and, second, for large transactions, the usual payments among merchants, they are in favor of bank notes of well-conducted specie paying STATE banks; or of bank collections, deposites, and checks, when these are more convenient, as is now, and long has been, the usual method of making payments in the larger mercantile places. So much for Atlas puerilities.

BF The following candid and sensible remarks upon the present condition of business affairs, are copied from the

"That over-banking is one of the causes of the present pecuniary revulsion, we have no doubt. The remark is applicable to nearly every state in the Union, at least to the commercial sections of each, and particularly to several of the southwestern states, where the extravagancies of the day have led to the creation of institutions to an almost unlimited amount of nominal capital, and to issues and discounts, not only excessive, but unsafe, if not ruinnous. But it does not follow that it is therefore just or expedient, certainly in states where the banks are known to be generally in a sound condition, to pursue a course towards them that shall destroy the public confidence in their ultimate ability to meet their engagements, or that shall serve to prostrate them, either in their business operations or in the public estimation. In this state, the banks are intimately connected with its varied business operations, and with the property and prosperity of its citizens. Created by law, they are entitled to the confidence and countenance of the community, so long as they observe their legal obligations, and maintain their faith to the public and to their creditors. A much larger amount is due to them from their debtors than they can owe to others; and if a reasonable forbearance is exon them, by the wholesale and withou discrimination, may evince spleen and hostility, but can scarcely serve any good purpose. That they should be held to a strict accountability and to rigid scratiny, that they should not avail themselves of the suspension of specie payments to extend their issues and discounts, that abuses, so far as they exist, should be corrected, and that they should be prepared and shoulds make every exertion to resume pay-ment at the earliest practicable day, are positions which no one who duly estimate the condition of things, will deny. But that they should be the object of ceaseles attack and suspicion—that the persons connected with them should

The suspension of specie payments by the banks is generally conceded to have been unavoidable, under the circomstances, however unfortunate in itself, or whatever may have been the causes which led to it. As such, the penal consequences of this alternative were postponed by the legislature: but the act of suspension itself was not authorized, as some suppose, nor is there any thing in the course of the legislature which ought to be regarded as affording a warrant for a departure from the fundamental law of sound banking. The most that can be associed in this respect is, that the suspension having taken place, under circumstances which seemed to render itunayoidable, the public interests demanded the interpretation of the ble, the public interests demanded the interprosition of the legislature, and the exemption of the banks from lorleiture, the consequences of which could not fail to be extensively

What ought now to be the course of the banks, cannot be a matter of doubt. Their besetting sin, during the suspension, will be increased issues of their paper .-The contraction immediately preceding the suspension was great. Their notes came in upon them with unprecedented rapidity. The temptation therefore is to regain then former ground, and to add to their circulation .-This should be guarded against, and resolutely resisted on their part, and discountenanced by the bank commissioners and by the public. They are bound, by every public consideration as well as by a due regard to their own interest, in nantical language, to trim their sails, and to keep themselves or put themselves in a condition to resume specie payments whenever it shall be practicable to bring about that much desired consumma tion; at the same time affording such reasonable indulgence to their debtors as shall best promote their own interests, mitigate the prevalent embarrassments, and aid in the gradual improvement of the condition of the banks, the currency and the people,"

A State Convention was held at Concord, N. H. on the 20th ult. at which His Excellency ISAAC HILL was an animously nominated for re-election to the office of Governor of that State, at the next election, and the following Resolved. That the members of this convention retain diminished confidence in the integrity and patriotism of His Excellency ISAAC HILL; that we highly approve of the principles contained in his late message to the Legislature of this State; and that we will use all honorable means to secure his re-election.

Resolved, That from the well known talents and integrity of our Senators and Representatives in Congress we have the most perfect confidence that they will discharge the daties of their official stations in such manner as will conduce to the best interests of this State and of our com-

Resolved, That our eminent fellow citizen, the present Secretary of the Treasury, is, for his ability, integrity, and firm adherence to democratic principles, entitled to the confidence of the democratic party.

Resolved, That the principles and policy of the present administration of the general government of the United States are entitled to our entire confidence and most cordial support; and to the confidence and support of our fellow citizens in this State and throughout our country.

Resolved, That in our judgment, Congress has not the constitutional right, nor is it expedient to charter a Bank of the United States upon the principles on which the late Bank of the United States was chartered; and that such, we doubt not, is the deliberate and solemn judgment of the democracy of this State.

Resolved, That the present condition of the currency evinces that the principles and policy of the late chief magistrate of the nation in relation to that subject were correct and sound; and demands that the same policy be pursued with unwavering steadiness by the Legislature of this

Mr. Webster .- This gentleman will never do for the Whig candidate for the Presidency. He and they are at sword's points concerning the currency. The Whigs are for paper money, and are constantly ridiculing the advantages of a specie currency. Mr. Webster, on the contrary, is making speeches in favor of hard money, and abusing in the most severe terms, the favorite money of the whigs. He is "tampering with the whig currency." They will never forgive him for this. He is dished, completely,-a gone goose. The whigs all say, that their unredeemable RAG MONEY shall constitute the currency for three or four years to come, at the least. Mr. W. is opposed to this, and therefore will never be supported by them with any degree of unanimity.

Daniel Webster is nominated by the federal party of New York for President. This is right, he is of the true blue stamp, unchanged and unchangable. The same party ought to put up George McDuffie, for Vice President, and then the ticket would look well.

Mr John Sargeant, of Philadelphia, was invited to attend a dinner given to Mr Ewing, at Chillicothe, Ohio, a while ago, but could n't make it convenient to be there, and so sent a letter " declining the honor," wherein he manifests a great anxiety that some one should be made President who will give him an opportunity to wear that splendid gold-laced coat he had made to visit the Panama . Congress in, to which Mr J. Q. Adams sent him, but which John was unable to find. It cost him upwards of five hundred dollars, and after all this expense he complained to his tailor that it only made him appear very ridiculous!

We are desired to say in reference to Mr. Gordon's statement in yesterday's Post, that Mr. Gordon's house could not have been ignorant that he bonded his woollens for storage, nor could they have been ignorant when they sold the goods, that they were in their own possession and not in the Custom House stores. We are requested further to state that those goods were not "sent to Mr. Gordon's store through a mistake in a clerk of the Custom House," but were taken by Mr. Gordon's teamster; and that with this statement of facts it is quite immaterial what name is given to the transaction.

The Courier says that it cannot be denied that Gen. Jackson has completely used up Judge White. The style of the old General's letter does not exactly square with the polished taste of the Courier, but it says the letter "is sufficient to make Judge White appear-what we always supposed him to be-a paltry, conceited intriguer, willing | blow. to descend, if such a fellow can descend, to any trick, however vile, and to violate all the requirements of honor and friendship, to further his purpose."

03 On Saturday we had the gratification of announcing the adjustment of a difference between our neighbors, the Courier and Gazette, without bloodshed! But the clouds lower again-we understand that the Wandering Piper breathes defiance, and threatens annihilation, against the Transcript, for saying that he can't spell.

The nomination of the Hon. GORHAM PARKS, for the office of Governor of Maine, by the Democrats of that State, frets the Whigs amazingly-they don't like to see a man whom they polted with mud for supporting democratic measures, elevated to the high office he is destined to fill.

Mr. Sprague, who was nominated as a candidate for Congress by the friends of the National Administration in Rhode Island, has declined being run; it is thought that | bareheaded and barefooted lad, who earns a few pence per Governor Frances will be nominated in his place.

The Twenty-fifth Report of the Council of the Masachusetts Temperance Society-presented at the Annual Meeting, May, 26, 1837 .- We like the tone and temper of the documents published with this report. So long as the advocates of the temperance reformation avoid the barsh measures and severe denunciations which have heretofore done so much injury to their cause, their efforts will without doubt be crowned by success. Persecution is not the right method of reforming a man of his vices and errors. If the disgrace which attends his crimes is not sufficient to deter him from the commission of them, ty, that the scene is hannted by ghosts ! there is but little hope of his reform. By persecuting an erring fellow-citizen, we exasperate his feelings, render him hardened against a sense of shame, and prompt him by resentment to plunge deeper and deeper into vice. for another 6 months. With regard to the various methods suggested by Mr Coleman, there are many which we approve, and some which are perhaps not advisable. The first is "the enlightening the public mind in regard to the evil." This s, perhaps, nearly all that need be done for the final trimph of temperance. Only let men, who have not already formed habits of intemperance, be convinced by argument and fact that abstinence from spirituous liquors will promote their interest, their wealth and their happiness in every respect, and you have done almost all that is neces- business before the Grand Jury probably greatly exceeds that sary to make them temperate men. As for the resignation of one's moral freedom, this is what we all do when we swear that we will fulfil the duties of any office. We do not think it advisable, as Mr Coleman suggests in the fifth the Cupola become fairly on fire, no human power could method, for the members of temperance societies to pro- have saved the building from complete destruction, and scribe the s'ops or taverus of those who continue to sell ardent spirits, not having been convinced, perhaps, of the been sacrificed with it. GENERAL ASSORTMENT OF LONGRESS WATER,—Prepared according to the formula of a distinguished chemist, and possessing al the freshness and medicinal qualities of the water when takel at the Spring; will be drawn from the Fountain at No 2n Trement row, and put up in bottles when required.

"Many persons are persuaded that there is something mysterious in the natural production of mineral waters, which could never be either explained or initiated; we now know, however, that the Saratoga, and all mineral waters, are only compounds of the water itsely, and of those substances which it holds in solution. It can therefore be of little consequence, whether by passing through the earth it extracts different whether by passing through the earth it extracts different materials from certain strata over which it flows, or whether materials from certain strate over which it flows, or whether these substances, in proper quantities, be artificially added to the water; the hand that supplies these materials, can make no difference in the result. An artificial preparation founded upen an exact knowledge of its contents, may produce the same medicinal effect, and be equally beneficial to health as the natural water "-Silliman's Journal.

Also, Effereescing Congress Powders, redduced from an analysis of the water; a convenient article for travellers, and those who cannot visit the fountain.

those who cannot visit the fountain.

The subscriber draws Soda Water, as heretofore, from the only stone fountains in the Commonwealth. Fifty lickets for a dollar, one of which is taken for pure Soda, and two for Soda with Syrap, or a pint tumbler of Congress Water.
